

Valley City

Mrs. Christine Hoeftler, a life-long resident of Valley City, passed away on Wednesday of last week, Nov. 23. She was born in Liverpool township Sept. 13, 1846, she thus being in her seventy-sixth year at the time of her death. The deceased is survived by her husband, three sisters and two brothers. Funeral services were held on Saturday morning, Nov. 26, at St. Martin's Catholic church, conducted by Rev. Kitter, and interment made in St. Martin's cemetery.

Thanksgiving day was observed in Valley City in proper traditional style—turkeys, geese and ducks simmered and baked in every kitchen and the air was redolent with the appetizing odors. From all directions came the sons and daughters to spend the day in the old home; our little valley became quite populous. Some of the many visitors were: Miss Elsie Stoskopf, Miss Ethel Krause, Mr. and Mrs. W. Reichard, Selin Hoppe, Mr. Hoppe, Miss Elsie Platz, Miss Linn, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Arick.

Also Valley City had a foot-ball team in the field for that day as the local boys played the Lagrange high school at Lagrange. A great many Valley City folks accompanied the team to Lagrange and they were well repaid for their exertion, for it was an exceptionally well-played game. Valley City showed marked improvement in this game and held the Lagrange team to a 6 to 6 score. It is to be regretted that the foot-ball season comes to a close just now when our boys are rounding into first-class form. Watch us next year!

Christmas shoppers, attention! The ladies of the Zion Lutheran church are putting on a Big Bazaar next Friday night, Dec. 2, in the basement of their church and will have a big selection of tasty, artistic and useful articles to offer for sale. According to rumors current, it will repay you to drop in there even if you have to cover a mile of mud road. They will feed you well before you start back home.

But the above-mentioned bazaar does not close the season for this popular indoor sport, as on Thursday, Dec. 8, the ladies of St. Paul's Lutheran church will be in possession of the town hall and put on display another wholesale lot of pretty things for discriminating buyers. This bazaar will open up with a big oyster supper, commencing at 5 o'clock. Do not fail to be there; it will be something real big.

Mr. Jake Raley who has a great many friends and relatives here, was back in town for a few days to say, "Howdy." Jake hails from Lansing, Mich., now.

A Thanksgiving program was given by the local school grades from one to six on Tuesday, Nov. 22. We have every reason to be proud of these youngsters and their teachers, as they acquitted themselves nobly and the big crowd received their offerings with a great deal of enthusiasm. The play and program were chiefly musical under the direction of Mr. S. T. Burns, the county superintendent of music. This gentleman tells us that the Liverpool youngsters are the best in the county. Another laurel wreath for Valley City!

The Junior high school is planning a party for Thursday evening, Dec. 1.

It does not seem to be universally known that the local high school has contracted for a lecture course of six numbers to be given in the town hall during the coming weeks. The first number was not attended as it should have been. It is the duty of every high school booster to help make this matter a success. Watch for the next performance.

Mr. Arthur Gienke spent Thanksgiving in Valley City. He appeared in the brand new role of "papa," and he got away with it in great style. He is one of the proudest daddies we have ever seen. We will admit the kid justifies considerable pride.

Mrs. John Sailer spent several days of last week in Cleveland.

Miss Gladys Martin of Ohio State devoted her Thanksgiving vacation to nursing her mother, Mrs. Stebel, who has been confined to her bed for a number of days with a rather serious case of bronchitis.

Tough luck! We have lost our old stand-by "Teddy" Weidner. Last Saturday evening he slipped away to Elyria and took unto himself a wife, namely, Miss Carry Ebert, who at one time taught school here. Well, we could pardon him for that—they all do it, sooner or later—but instead of bringing his bride here to a real honest-to-goodness town, he carried her away to little old Medina to make his future home there. We don't like that, Teddy, but nevertheless we extend to you our very best well-wishes.

Were you at the Farm Bureau's old-fashioned dance and box social? It must have been a great affair—they are still talking about it and asking for another. The old folks who thought they had forever put dancing behind them, on this occasion staged a thrilling come-back and danced like "flappers."

The Ladies' Aid of Zion's Lutheran church will hold their first annual bazaar Friday evening, Dec. 2, in the church basement. Everybody welcome. Come and help make this a success as it is the church's first bazaar.

Miss Eloise Krause of Ohio State University, Columbus spent Thanksgiving vacation with her parents here.

Miss Anna L. Krause of Cleveland spent the week-end with relatives.

Chippewa Lake

Last week Mrs. S. H. Nickerson received word that her brother, Isaac Martin, had died in Lincoln, Neb. and was buried Tuesday. Mr. Martin was a resident of Missouri and was visiting a son in Lincoln when he was taken sick and died. He was 81 years of age.

J. F. Townsend and wife and Miss Elizabeth of Pittsburg were at their summer home at the Lake a few days last week.

Rev. Blake Arnold and family of Cleveland and Austin Arnold and wife of Akron were at father Arnold's last week.

Ernest and Glenn Laughlin of Orrville were at Sherm Barrett's a few days last week, and Sunday Mrs. Barrett and Lee and Etta Cammarn returned to Orrville with them.

The brick and tile mill closed down last week to make necessary repairs and work off surplus stock.

The friends of Frank Arnold husked corn for him Tuesday.

Mrs. P. J. Latimer and daughter Lucile of Akron spent the past week at W. F. Boley's home.

Our good friend, Jos. Leichty, who lives on the Paradise road, tells us that the weather on the last Friday of the month controls the weather for the next month, and if this is true we shall have fine weather all next month for Friday was nice and sunshiny all day.

F. A. Strong and wife spent Thanksgiving at Chas. Anderson's in Medina; S. H. Nickerson and wife at Mr. Bair's in Medina; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Leohr and son William at H. W. Wolf's at Wadsworth; Blake Leohr and family at his wife's parents in Seville; C. L. Bart and wife at his father's in Malet Creek; J. K. Ritter and family at his mother's; C. W. Carlton and family at his brother's at Northwest, where they ate roast pig; Courtland Craig and family of Akron at his father's.

Don't forget to buy Christmas seats of the youngsters when they start out selling them for 80 per cent of the money stays right here to be used for health purposes.

Mr. Abbott has the sympathy of the entire community in the loss of his new barn Sunday evening. He lost his big barn and all the contents in the fall, and now the loss of this new one makes it very severe indeed.

Clarence Arnold of Montana is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Arnold.

Don't forget the home-coming and chicken dinner at the U. B. church on Thursday of this week. All friends of the church are invited.

Clayton Saunders and wife who went on a motor trip to the west, have located in Sutherland, Oregon, and Mr. Saunders has already bought a meat market and is running it. They like the country out there very much.

Say, Chippewa Lake people, don't we need some street lights in our city? Of course we do. Well then, let's get together and incorporate, and have some of the modern improvements. You can't find a town in the world the size of ours but what has street light, at least, and our town is like a jungle after dark. Think it over and then get busy.

Sharon

People of Sharon are glad to know that Geo. Duncan, is recovering from his operation and will soon be home. Walter Alderfer has recovered from scarlet fever.

Anna, daughter of Elmer and Ella Caskey, has scarlet fever.

We are glad we can say we have oratoricals in school this year. It is something that has been sadly neglected for years. Mr. Michael Freidit has spent the month of November with his daughter, Mrs. Walter Swigart, and will spend the month of December with his other daughter, Mrs. Will Everhard of Wadsworth.

The W. C. T. U. ladies remembered the Municipal hospital at Wadsworth and the Peoples' hospital at Akron with a Thanksgiving offering. Wads worth received 13 quarts of fruit and 9 cups of jelly. The writer has not learned what was sent to Akron.

Mr. J. F. Waltz and daughter Bertha left for California Nov. 29, where they expect to spend the winter.

Miss Marian Swigart is spending a few days with friends in Copley and Cleveland.

Jay Caskey and family of Akron spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Caskey.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Swigart and daughter Marian spent Thanksgiving with friends in Copley.

Mae Halderman accompanied her nephew, Eugene Miller, to Cleveland, Thanksgiving.

Congratulations to Mrs. Wayne Conne and Miss Dorothy Heighberger who were united in marriage at the Church of Christ in Akron, Nov. 15. On their return from a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Conne will be at home at 982 Boulevard, Akron.

Willard Daykin and wife entertained her sister, Mrs. Helen Beck, Thanksgiving.

Friendsville

Charles Neisz of Canton spent the holiday with his sister, Mrs. James Kline.

Mr. Kline has piped gas from the well on his farm into the house. He thinks that beats building fires on cold mornings.

Mrs. Charles Kulp spent Thanksgiving with her mother, brother and her daughter, in Cygnat, returning home on Monday evening.

We are all sorry to hear that Mrs. David Barnhart has had another severe attack of asthma since they moved to their new home in Ashland. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Dennison entertained Mr. Dennison's relatives on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. David Galloway is improving slowly and is now able to take her meals with the family.

Mrs. J. W. Wissler received the bad news that her father, George Galloway of Kent, was very sick, after having had a stroke.

Grandma Kulp, daughter Laura and son Romeo ate Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Ed. Kulp in Lodi.

Everett Seibert, whose birthday anniversary was last week, says that it is rather tough luck to lie down to take a snooze and wake up to find all of his friends gathered around him. Of course after the surprise, Everett had a fine time, as every one else did.

Milo Reynolds is sick with boils and carbuncles on his face.

Everybody remember that church services will be held next Sunday morning instead of in two weeks.

LeRoy

The ladies of the Universalist church will hold a bazaar and dinner at the Leroy auditorium on Friday evening of this week, Dec. 2. Fish ponds, candy booths and many other attractions will provide amusement for the occasion, and to cap the affair an old-fashioned Christmas dinner will be served.
